Central NC Pagan Pride Day Festival 2011

Think you might want to be part of next year's event? Our first planning meeting will be on October 3rd, 2010 at 2pm at Gaia's Gardens. Call 1-800-979-4423 to get details.

Agreement and Policies

For your convenience, here is the agreement you accepted when you registered for your booth.

As a booth registrant for CNCPPD 2010 you agree to the following:

1. You understand that the CNCPPD event is a rain or shine event and understand that as long as the event is officially open your booth is expected to be open. Please have your booth fully set-up and prepared no later than 10:55 am and breakdown no earlier than 6:30 pm. Please note that you can leave part or all of your booth setup over Saturday night, though we recommend lowering canopies and adding extra tie-downs as it can be very windy.
2. You understand that you are responsible for arranging staffing for your booth and understand that CNCPPD staff is not responsible for providing coverage at any point during the event.
3. You understand this is an outdoor event in a leased location, so changes to your chosen location may be required for unforeseen reasons.
4. You understand that CNCPPD is a family friendly event, so adult items must be well inside your booth, and the presence of adult items should be noted at all your booth entrances.
5. You understand our festival is not licensed or insured for alcohol consumption or open alcohol containers on the festival grounds. If CNCPPD staff sees you with any alcoholic beverage, you will be immediately escorted off the property and will not be allowed to come back as a vendor in the future.
6. You understand that no money can be solicited at a free Information booth, which includes sales, donations, love gifts, pledges and any other form of accepting money or the promise of money. If you plan to take money, pay for a Vendor booth.
7. You understand that no food or beverages of any kind, not even free samples, can be sold or given away to the public at any booth without written permission. This restriction is due to very complex rules and fees for concessions at the fairgrounds.
8. You accept full responsibility for your actions. As an example, we assume you know coffee is hot and will not hold us responsible if you spill it on yourself. So, be careful, be thoughtful, and be excellent to each other.

So, those are the basic rules, but we can be flexible. As an example, if you need lots of time to break down, and are afraid you will run out of light if you don't start by 6:30pm, then speak with the festival staff BEFORE you setup. We can make sure your booth is away from the ritual circle so your breakdown won't distract from the closing ritual.

Additional policy and scheduling issues:

1. Gate 6 (not the attendee entrance) opens at 9am for vendors to setup. If you need more time, let us know ahead of time. We can let you in as early as 8am if it is necessary, but please arrange this ahead of time.
2. Booths on paved and gravel areas will have access by car during setup. Booths on grass areas will have a 200' or less walk from car access.
3. Information booths will be provided with a table and 2 chairs. Please note, if you wish to have a tent or a popup shade cover, you will need to bring this with you. CNCPPD will not provide these for you. You will need to pick up tables and chairs in the morning at the main building and return them to the main building after the event. Failure to return the tables and chairs at the close of the event will result in banning from future CNCPPD events. Any other decorations that you wish to have at your booth is allowed, however, please note that we provide only a 10'x10' space for each booth. CNCPPD reserves the right to request you to move any items that may be deemed in the way or a hazard.
4. Vendor booths will NOT be provided with table and chairs and or any shade cover. If there are available tables and chairs after the Information Booths have been setup, they may be available for daily rental at $10/chair and $20/table, with the same pickup and drop off rules as described above in item 3. Please don't count on there being any, though. If you are a Vendor, we recommend you bring all that you need to setup your booth.
5. Unless you ALREADY made special arrangements, there will be no power, water or trash facilities at the booth spaces.
6. Please be considerate when it comes to music, incense, or other things that will be shared with your neighbor booths.
7. If you have special requirements due to a disability, please call me at 919-412-3589 before the event.
8. As always, the Central NC Pagan Pride Days Festival reserves the right to refuse or close a booth, without promise of refund, should we feel it detracts from the goals of the festival in any way.

Booth FAQ for Central NC Pagan Pride Festival 2010

What time can I setup?

- Gate 6 opens at 9am for people coming in to setup booths and the like.

When can I break down?

- Breakdown officially begins at 6:30pm on both Saturday the 19th and Sunday the 20th, after the closing ceremony. We ask that all vendors wait until then to avoid distracting from the last hour of the event.

Where will I be?

- This packet includes the list of booths, the zones they are in and the map of zones at the site. Exact placement within each zone is laid out the night before the event. When you arrive at 9am a blue shirt coordinator will take you to your spot.

I have a raffle/auction donation. What do I do with it?

- Please print a description page about your item to be displayed with your item and/or read by the auctioneer. Descriptions should be short, but compelling. A typical pattern would be one sentence each for:
 - Your company/store/craft name and what makes you special.
 - A factual description of the item, including its normal retail price.
 - How the item can be used, magickal traits, special properties, etc.
- We will come around to your booth after the opening ceremony to pick up your donated raffle/auction item, so you don't have to worry about it while you are trying to get setup.

I haven't decided whether to donate a raffle/auction item. How much are others giving?

- Remember, the raffle items are displayed all day, and the auction items will be presented at 2:00 pm on Saturday the 18th & Sunday the 19th. This is a great way to donate to PPD and get exposure for your product at the same time.
- So far, raffle/auction donation retail values have ranged from $10 to $100 each, with most giving one or two items.

How can I help promote the event?

- On the web site we provide some items to help with this. Go to <http://cncppd.org/> then choose the "Promote" side menu item. There you will find both printable media and images to use in links from your own web site.
- Talk to your customers or members about the event during these last few weeks to let them know you will be there and to invite them.
- Post about the upcoming festival and your presence there in newsgroups, mailing lists, blogs and online forums. An official email will be forth coming.
- A flier will be coming that is the official CNCPPD flier. Feel free to print it and post it or share with local groups that you work with.

I hate my location, how can I get a better one?

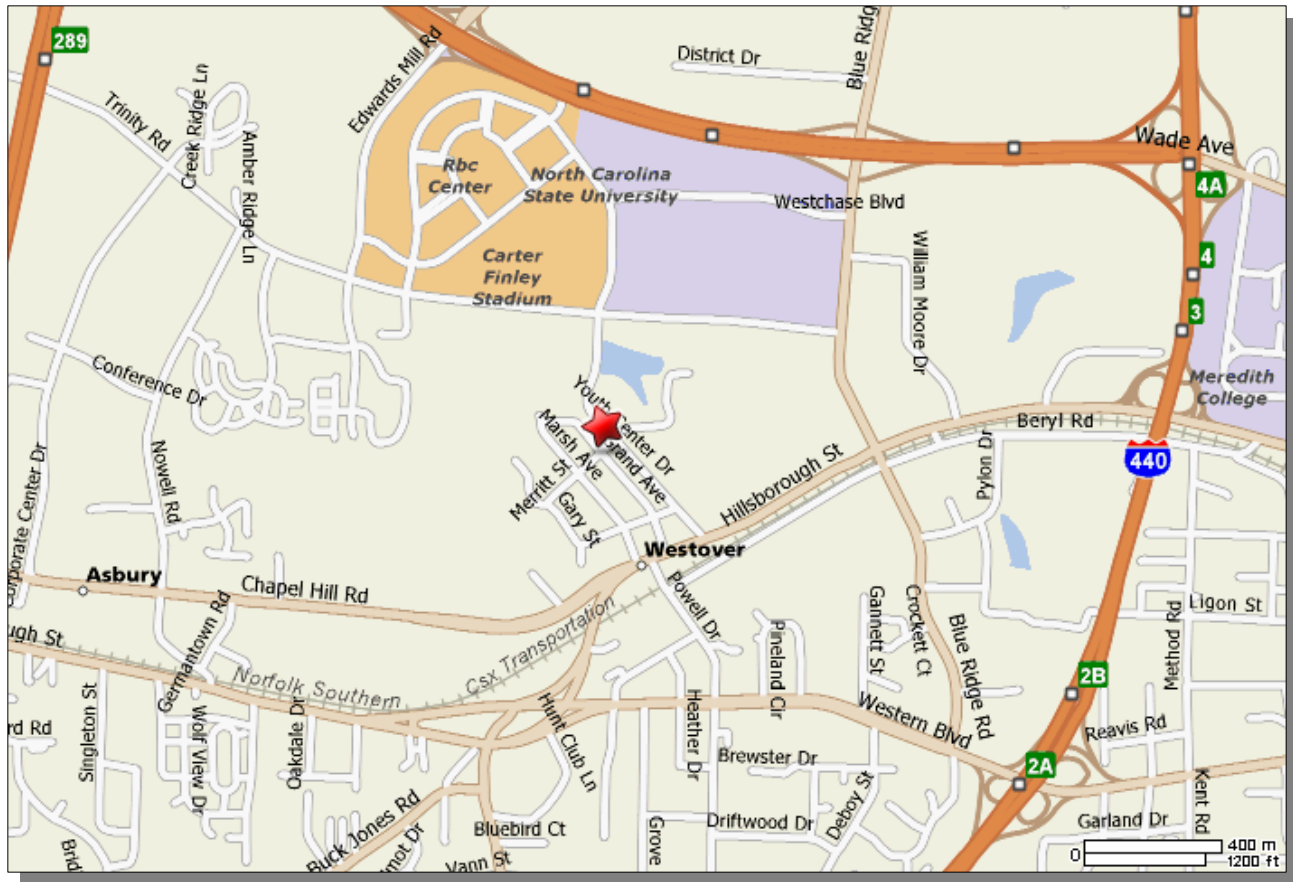

- All locations are assigned on a first come first serve basis. We cannot change your location for the event this year.
- Opt to preregister and you can be one of the first people to choose your location for 2011. This means if you do not like location this year, you can choose a better location that might better suite your needs for next year. See the enclosed form for preregistration and give to Michelle or Andrea throughout the festival.

Who is responsible for Tax ID's or Associated Taxes?

- CNCPPD does not take any responsibility for taxes and fees due to local or state governments. As a vendor it is your responsibility to keep all necessary tax id and sale records.

Lodging

Red Roof Inn

We have confirmed rates at a local hotel, the Red Roof Inn at 1800 Walnut Street, Cary, NC (they call it Raleigh SouthWest). For $54.99/night plus tax you get a room with 2 double beds for up to 4 adult guests. When you call to register, make sure to ask about discounts. They offer $5 to $10 off for a variety of things like AAA, veterans, over 50, and maybe memberships like Costco and Sam's Club, but won't mention it unless you ask. This rate is good for the nights of September 17th, 18th and 19th, your choice whether you stay all three nights, or just one or two of them. If you are interested, DO NOT call the hotel directly, instead calling the toll free reservations number, 800-733-7663.

Greek Fiesta – Saturday Food Vendor

This year's menu will include "Build-your-own" Pita sandwiches.

Roly Poly – Sunday Food Vendor

This year we will feature a new food vendor on Sunday who will offer fresh made deli wraps.

A full menu will be forthcoming before the event.

Next Year's Event/Preregistration

We are finalizing details for our 2011 event, but we are looking forward to continuing the two days for the event and making it even better than this year.

2011 FAQ

Q: Where is the double booth option on the 2011 registration?

A: In an effort to continue to improve our event, CNCPPD is selling all booth spaces at the 10x10 rate. We are hoping that this will increase our variety of vendors and allow us to offer locations to new vendors. Vendors are allowed to purchase up to (2) 10x10 spaces. As always, CNCPPD tries to honor everyone's request for specific locations and neighbors, but space is limited, and is available on a first come, first serve basis. These accommodations are more likely to be granted if you preregister.

Q: Will Overnight Accommodations be provided again for 2011? How Much?

A: Right now we are still planning on renting the dorm again for next year's event. Overnight activities will include a bed in the dorm and food both Saturday night and Sunday morning and should stay at the same $20 rate as this year. If you want to camp onsite, the fairgrounds will also require a fee of $25 per tent (up to 4 people) that will be collected Saturday night by a fairgrounds employee. Please note: No pillows, linens or personal toiletries are furnished if you stay in the dorm. There will be showers available for everyone who stays overnight. Showers are located in the dorm building.

Q: Who Do I pay?

A: You will have to pay the $20 fee to CNCPPD for overnight accommodations and if you intend to camp next to your booth a $25 fee per tent will be paid Saturday night to a fairgrounds employee.

Q: Hours of Event?

A: The hours set for the 2011 event are subject to change, but right now we plan to keep the same hours we have this year.

Q: Why Should I Pay You Now?

A: The bonus of preregistration means that YOU get control of where you want to be next year. You can either guarantee the location you are in now, or you can choose another location in another area. As long as they don't pay, you can have it! Preregistration has helped many vendors secure a "prime" location in the past, and we are pleased to bring it back this year. Booths sell out earlier and earlier every year as our event gets more popular. As of the time we released booth sales to new vendors, we had already sold 50% of our booths.

Vendor Booth Registration – CNCPPD 2011

This form is ONLY to be used for preregistration and can ONLY be turned in during the 2010 event. There will be staff members coming around throughout both days to answer questions and collect these forms.
